If I had slept earlier,	we would visit them more often.
If I were a bird,	the ice melts.
If you call me tonight,	you would have passed the test.
If I had remembered my wallet,	what would you buy?
If the sun shines on ice,	you will pass the exam.
If I could teleport,	I will tell you the secret.
If she had told me,	I would have bought lunch.
If she had more time,	it expands.
If it rains tomorrow,	I would fly across the ocean.
If you study hard,	she would learn the guitar.
If you heat metal,	they would have caught the bus.
If the shop is open,	it falls to the ground.
If you won the lottery,	I wouldn't be so tired now.
If water reaches 100°C,	we will cancel the picnic.
If you mix red and blue,	I will buy some milk.
If they arrive early,	I would never be late.
If we had booked tickets,	I would have helped her.
If they lived closer,	it boils.
If you had studied,	we would have seen the show.
If you drop something,	you get purple.
If they had left earlier,	we will start the game sooner.
