If it snows tomorrow, we will build a snowman.	If water reaches 100°C, it boils.	If I could fly, I would visit every country.	If they had studied, they would have passed.	If you freeze water, it turns to ice.	If she runs, she will catch the bus.
If you mix yellow and blue, you get green.	If we had left earlier, we would have avoided traffic.	If I had more money, I would buy a horse.	If I see him, I will say hello.	If they were here, we would start the meeting.	If I eat too much sugar, I feel sick.
If it rains tomorrow, we will stay indoors.	If I had remembered my umbrella, I would not be wet.	If you heat metal, it expands.	If we win the match, we will celebrate.	If you throw ice into fire, it melts.	If I were invisible, I would sneak into concerts.
If I had studied more, I would have got an A.	If the sun shines, the ice melts.	If he calls, I will answer.	If I saw a ghost, I would scream.	If she had been faster, she would have won.	If you don't water plants, they die.
If I find my keys, I will open the door.	If she had spoken earlier, we could have helped.	If I were rich, I would buy a castle.	If they invite me, I will go.	If you press this button, the machine starts.	If the sky is clear, you can see the stars.
If you touch fire, it burns.	If he had listened, he wouldn't have made that mistake.	If the alarm rings, we will leave.	If I could time travel, I would visit the dinosaurs.	If you add salt to water, it tastes salty.	If we don't hurry, we will miss the train.
